Charles Shields was granted a divorce yesterday from his wife. After a separation from her of fifteen years he came to Prescott a few months since and found her in a house of prostitution. She left here soon after his arrival.

Hank Field who with Charles King was tried during the present term of court on a charge of stealing a check and the jury disagreed entered a plea of guilty yesterday. This is an illustration of how mistaken in judgment, the average juror can be.

T. B. Carter was in town yesterday. He has been engaged for some time freighting for Captain W. F. Meeks, hauling machinery from Martinez to Quartzsite, but returned to Kirkland on last night's train en route to Walnut Grove to visit his family.

Amended articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Crown King mines company, whereby 1,000,000 of the 3,000,000 shares of the capital stock is preferred stock. The preferred stock will entitle the holder to six per cent dividends annually.

E. D. Treadwell expects to have the new smelter of the George A. Treadwell company in operation by the first of February. He says that there will be no difficulty in keeping it in operation, that he has had offers of enough custom ore to keep the smelter in operation.

From Friday's Daily.

George Rohpeter is a visitor to the city from the Agua Fria valley.

F. A. Bowmann, of the Rainbow Mining company, is in the city on a business trip.

The street sprinkler had an opportunity yesterday to distinguish itself by extinguishing the dust. But it didn't show up like the dust did.

W. G. Wingfield, of the Verde valley, was a visitor to the city yesterday on business matters. He reports that old agricultural standby as enjoying its customary amount of prosperity.

The hearing of the case of P. L. Kastner versus J. H. Darrah and the Fashion livery stable, will be resumed today before Judge Sloan. A continuance was given from Wednesday.

Henry Shelton, the father of Mrs. Wilbur J. Mayer, came up from Florence on Wednesday, and will go to Mayer for a few days visit with his relatives and to spend the holidays.

The handsomest calendar of the season is that being circulated by the Palace Hotel people. An elk head adorns it in embossed form, and the entire arrangement is beautiful as well as useful.

Charley Akers and Harry Tritle, of Phoenix, have entered journalistic ambitions and each name above appears at the masthead of the Phoenix Gazette. Some people do not know when they are well off in this life.

J. W. Hubbard, of the Palo Alto Mining Co., who left this section some weeks ago suffering from a convalescent from typhoid fever, writes from San Diego that he is improving rapidly and has regained in general health wonderfully. He will soon return to the Chaparral county. His recovery is said to be remarkable, for while at McCabe his life was several times despaired of, and several doctors stated that he could not live. It is gratifying indeed that he is himself again, as he is well known and as well liked.

Charley Irwin, better known as "Cabby," will hereafter drive himself around the city instead of that vehicle, and look out as a nightwatchman for the interests of the city. He knows the city like a book and there is no doubt but what he will be an efficient officer.

The evening paper states that Dave Sinclair retires from the present board on the last of the year. Such is not the case. Schuerman and Stephens vacate that office, while Mr. Sinclair is a holdover and will serve for two years at least, and will probably be the chairman besides.

A business man of Prescott makes the suggestion that the police force of this city is too slow on foot and he would suggest that every officer who has to patrol the extensive area of the city be provided with a saddle horse and especially so at night while making the rounds of the alleys and streets.

Hon. John S. Jones left yesterday for his mining interests at Chaparral. He will superintend the placing of machinery that is due to arrive any day. Mr. Jones stated that there was great deal of interest manifested in the east over Arizona mining and he predicted a heavy investment of capital next year.

Judge Hicks had another insane victim before him on Wednesday by the name of Pete Lundgren, and he was adjudged as a fit subject for the insane asylum at Phoenix. An accident at Jerome while he was a miner there is attributed as the cause of his demented mind. Previous to that time he was regarded as a very intelligent man.

Ab Mefford, who for over six years has been away from Prescott, returned yesterday. He has spent most of that time in Mexico, and states that that section is progressing rapidly through the channel of mining operations. He was surprised to see such a changed condition in this city from that formerly in evidence.

The Whipple and Phoenix base ball nines will have a series of three games in the capital city commencing on January 31st. The Phoenix nine recently defeated the Tucson team in two straight, and they are said to have the strongest aggregation of players in the southwest. Carroll formerly of the Iron King mine, is on first base for the Phoenix team.

Hank Fields got a dose of Yuma medicine yesterday afternoon that will keep him under the territory's care for a year at least. He robbed a man at Hooper a few weeks ago of a $800 check that he had cashed at Crown King, and had considerable fun with it in dissipation. He will now have an opportunity to sober up and appreciate as well that it is a long time between drinks.

One by one the roses fade away, and likewise is it true so are those rocks on the plaza being thrown out. Mr. Cruickshank has his big stick at work these days, and if the good work is continued soon there will be but a memory of the folly that placed them there. Soon the little fishes in that tank will feel very lonesome to know that they are the only element that will have a monopoly on the rock business.

The Roemer robbery has now assumed many phases of an intellectual discussion. Some pronounce it kleptomania, others the good old style of a burglary article, while other express the opinion that they knew he was a thief and several were informed to that effect immediately after his arrival in this city, saying that he operated on an extensive scale in Phoenix before coming here, and left that city before he was found out. Roemer also used the secret order lodge as a shield to his criminal inclinations by always posing as being a good fellow.

Superintendent J. A. Conlee, who has charge of development work on the White Horse group of claims is getting some splendid ores. Assay returns just had from a nice streak of ore in the Hammer shaft give values of $240.40 mainly in gold. A second sample taken from tunnel 450 feet east of above shaft and across three feet of ore gave $20.00 also mainly gold. Conlee expects to make a shipment of the high grade ore in the near future.

The municipal election in Prescott in January has every indication at the present writing of being a very tame affair. Last night but one ticket had been filed with the clerk of the council, and as today is the legal expiration for so filing one's declaration, it looks as if there would be no contest whatever for any office. The citizen's ticket as filed comprises the following candidates: Mayor, Morris Goldwater; councilmen, W. T. Brown and Ben M. Belcher; recorder, C. H. McLane; chief of police, S. A. Prince; assessor, Frank Williams.

D. M. Martin, president of the Rio Colorado Land and Irrigation company of Needles, arrived on last night's train and will remain in Prescott a few days attending to business in connection with their big reclamation scheme on the Colorado river. His company has secured some thirty thousand acres of rich land from the railroad company and will take water from the river 25 miles above the tract which is on the east side of the Colorado and almost opposite the town of Needles. Ditches are being built and a large acreage of very fertile land will be made productive and bring added wealth to this section.

From Saturday's Daily.

How would City Marshal Frank Burns sound for a change?

General Manager Harrington of the Tiger Gold company, is paying Prescott a business visit.

F. E. Biles, general manager of the Dividend Consolidated mines, came in from McCabe yesterday.

Mark Bradley is in the city from Cherry Creek, where the work of driving a tunnel on his mining interests is progressing under a contract.

J. B. Tomlinson who is developing a large mining property in Mexico will return there next week and remain some time looking after their interests.

Charley Keyes is badly missed by many people of this city. He had the audacity to go to Phoenix for the winter after residing continuously here for nearly a third of a century.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart go out to Williamson valley today to spend Christmas with Mrs. Stewart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Cook. They are accompanied by Mrs. May Cook of McCabe.

General Manager W. A. Kent, of the Oriental Mining company, was in town yesterday on business and reports the properties under his jurisdiction as responding satisfactorily to development.

B. A. Fowler is in Washington with his irrigation shoulder to the statehood issue. He doesn't let a little thing like defeat for congress stop him. And he will work with Mark Smith too. Now let some of them yell.

At last night's meeting of the Eagles lodge Fred Roemer, the wholesale purveyor of all kinds of merchandise was dropped from membership. The rules of this order require that a man shall be of good moral character hence the action is promptly weeding out Roemer.

At the meeting of creditors of E. H. Mott, the McCabe merchant who recently filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, held in the office of E. M. Sanford yesterday, P. B. Dolly of McCabe was selected as trustee to take charge of and close out the business. The trustee is required to qualify with $1000 bond.

"Arizona" is deserving of a place in the sisterhood of states. No commonwealth is making greater strides than Arizona. It is increasing in population by leaps and bounds, and the impetus to the mining industry which has been given by recent discoveries will make the state one of the best in the entire west in a few brief years." —Santa Fe New Mexican.

Christmas exercises were given yesterday morning by the kindergarten school under the direction of Miss McGill and Miss Raible. The exercises as usual were very interesting and the several numbers were beautifully given. A Christmas tree had also been prepared and one of the children acted as Santa Clause distributing the presents from the teachers to the children and mementoes from the little tots to their teachers.

Paul Burks, the young man who has been assigned as the attorney for the Santa Fe interests at Prescott, is at present residing in Los Angeles. He will arrive in this city some time during the coming week and begin his duties as the legal adviser of that system. The announcement of his coming has drawn forth much favorable comment from those in this city who know him personally as well as by reputation, and they are pleased to see him come to reside here. He is a very young man in age, but with an old head on his shoulders, and in a very few years has worked his way upward through his capability and his studious methods.

The preliminary examination of Mrs. Roemer as an accomplice in the Gardner robbery will be heard this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Her arrest under the circumstances is palpably evident that she was assisting her husband in the crime, but the question is said will arise what would her incarceration lead to in caring for the six children she has to look out for in case she could not furnish bail. Some of the children need a mother's care, and what to do with her under these conditions prevailing is a difficult one. A special officer to patrol her home or to guard her constantly would be an additional county expense in this case, and there seems to be no inclination to pile up any more expense than is absolutely necessary. The problem is a difficult one to handle.

A NOVEL INVITATION

A young woman popular in Baltimore society was much taken back not long since to receive from a man of her acquaintance an invitation couched in the following remarkable terms: "Mr. Dash presents his compliments to Miss Blank, and requests the pleasure of her company at the theater Monday evening next. Trusting that we may receive an early and favorable response to the foregoing proposition, we remain, very respectfully yours, "Dash & Co. (Inc)."

The author of this note, it may be added, is the junior partner in a large wholesale enterprise in the Monumental city. As such he is intrusted with a considerable portion of the correspondence of his house. So, it would seem that in a moment of absent mindedness he had confounded his business with his social correspondence closing his note with the stereotyped form appended to all letters sent out by the firm and to cap the climax, signing in the same way.

The young woman who was the recipient of this unconventional invitation, however, evidently appreciated the situation, for she replied in a humorous vein.

The young man of business a day or two afterward was amazed to receive a letter addressed to him personally, but containing the following reply to his invitation:

"Messrs. Dash & Company: Your favor of the 15th inst. duly received and contents noted. In reply we would say that we accept the proposition therein made and hold the goods subject to yr. further instructions. Very truly yours, "Miss Blank & Co." —Philadelphia Press.

THE BURTON HOLMES' TRAVELOGUES.

"Nothing short of actual travel could give the insight into foreign life afforded by the Burton Holmes illustrated Travelogues," and it is true. No more acceptable gift could be given to friends than a trip through the "The Russian Empire," from sea to sea, and a trip to "Japan." Send your friends tickets for Christmas. This is an opportunity that seldom comes to Prescott people—an opportunity to hear the leading lecturer of this country, tell of his travels in the two countries which are now holding the attention of the world—Japan and the Russian Empire. Reserved seats on sale at Brisleys corner drug store. 12x21x5

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different soil than others; some crops need different handling than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about a mistake made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.
